Ewha Global Empowerment Program (2012 Summer)

“Asian Feminisms and Transnational Activism”

July 5 - 18, 2012

Asian Center for Women’s Studies, Ewha Womans University

Seoul, South Korea

The Asian Center for Women’s Studies at Ewha Womans University is calling for applicants for the Ewha Global Empowerment Program (EGEP) 2012 summer. EGEP is a two-week program that will take place twice a year (January and July). It aims to empower women working in non-governmental public sectors and to nourish the next generation of women leaders in Asia and Africa. EGEP 2012 summer (July 5-18, 2012) is designed for women activists in non-governmental public sectors in Asia, with the theme of “Asian Feminisms and Transnational Activism.”
